

Helping Us to Help Them

Our vision is a world in which all children and vulnerable adults can grow up and live in safety and security, without risk of being abused or neglected.

Unfortunately, we know too many children and adults face abuse and neglect in their lives today. Our charity is there to support those who work with them, as well as working towards a better future for all. We are there to support child protection and adult safeguarding practitioners to work to the best of their ability with the most vulnerable in society. We work best when we work together and this is why the AoCPP is a multidisciplinary charity. Help us to help professionals protect vulnerable children and adults from abuse and neglect.

Child protection and adult safeguarding professionals are there when things go wrong. Your donation can help us to work with the vulnerable now and to stop abuse and neglect in the future.

The Association of Child Protection Professionals is a registered charity and membership association - the only one in the UK that provides training, support and professional development for those working across all disciplines within child protection and adult safeguarding. We started as a small inter-professional membership association in 1979 and we have grown to become a key organisation not only in providing support and professional development, but also in providing representation to government, national and local policy makers. Our aim is to ensure that child protection and adult safeguarding is fit for purpose and responsive to changing needs and issues. Although we are UK based, we actively promote links around the world, such as through our highly respected journal, Child Abuse Review.

We believe bringing professionals from all sectors together to share their knowledge, research and expertise, is the best way to build strong systems that ensure all vulnerable children and adults can be protected and supported to rebuild their lives, free from the fear of abuse and neglect.

More details of the extensive range of activities we undertake can be found on our website: www.childprotectionprofessionals.org.uk.

As a non-profit making registered charity our funding comes from membership fees, charging for training events and donations.

We welcome donations from individuals and organisations that share our vision and values, helping us to help vulnerable children, adults and their families to achieve their best futures. Every donation, no matter what the size, will help us to safeguard more vulnerable children.

If you would like to make a donation please contact us at hello@childprotectionprofessionals.org.uk.

Dr Sam Warner, Chair of AoCPP

Registered Charity No. : 1190441
Registered Charity No. (Scotland) : SC050800
Twitter: @AoCPPTweet
Facebook: Association of Child Protection Professionals
LinkedIn: Association of Child Protection Professionals

Association of Child Protection
Professionals